The United States Mint has announced a new series of $1 coins for circulation that honor past Presidents of the United States in the order that they served. In addition to these historic circulating coins, the United States Mint is striking and issuing a set of four Presidential $1 Coins per year in proof condition. Each coin bears an image of a President on the obverse side. The four issued in 2007 feature Presidents Washington, Adams, Jefferson and Madison. Each coin has a common reverse design with a striking rendition of the Statue of Liberty.

These proof coins also feature edge-incused inscriptions of the year, "E Pluribus Unum," "In God We Trust" and the mint mark. The size, weight and metal composition of the new Presidential $1 Coins are identical to that of the Sacagawea Golden Dollar. Proof coins are specially treated, polished and cleaned to ensure high-quality strikes. The coins are then packaged in presentation cases to showcase and maintain their exceptional finish.
